

Kitty

was so excited to get invited to the party of the year! Now she had only one problem. What to wear? The engraved invitation clearly read that this was to be an Edwardian Costume Ball. Luckily for Kitty she already had plans for a shopping trip into the City. Later that morning, Kitty came across a beautiful storefront window. The sign above read, "Costume Couture ~ gowns for all occasions." But what really caught her eye were the three magnificent gowns on display there! Oh dear. Now she had another dilemma...which one should she buy? You can help poor Kitty to make up her mind. Carefully take each gown off its hanger to let her try them on. Which one is the prettiest? You decide!

Remove hangers before "trying on"

Tanner 2013 UFDC

2013 Londonberries

Cut out black section to slide section through

Tanner 2013 UFDC